A-Z Letter Tracing Worksheets

Last Four · Ages 3-5

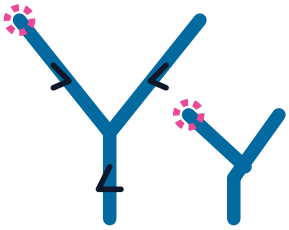

The last four letters of the alphabet, one per panel: bold outlines with a pink start dot on every stroke and a printed arrow for direction. The routine: find the dot, follow the arrow, lift at the end of the stroke.

The three moves, every panel — 10 minutes

- [ ] Find the pink dot
- [ ] Follow the arrow
- [ ] Lift at the end of the stroke

Adult: print on plain or matte paper and keep the sheet on a table, not the floor. A short crayon or pencil fits the hand best, and an adult, close enough to act, stays in the room while the pencil tin is open.

A-Z Letter Tracing Worksheets

Four Corners · Ages 3-5

The four corner letters: A as the first, M and N as the two that sit on the middle line, and Z as the one that crosses it. The lined guide does the most work here — the tall legs of A and M, the short cap of N, the diagonal of Z. Start every stroke at the pink dot.

AGES 3-5

One big letter pair per half-sheet, drawn with a thick marker, plus a small dot where each stroke begins. Two dashed lines under it for the second and third pass.

Ages 3-4 trace the uppercase only and finger-trace the lowercase; ages 4-5 trace both, then write the letter once on the line below.

Adult: two panels a sitting, then a two-minute pencil rest. The page goes on the stack finished or not. Stay in the room while the pencil tin is open — an adult, close enough to act.
