Coloring Pages Pack

Animals · Ages 4-6

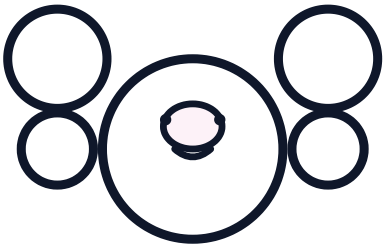

Thick outlines, one subject per page, plenty of white space inside the lines. Pick two crayons first, color the biggest shape first, then add one detail — dots, stripes, or a sun in the corner.

Adult: short, broken crayons beat long new ones for small hands. Tape the page corners down so it stops sliding, and stay in the room while the crayon box is out.

After coloring: cut, glue, display

A finished page has a second life. Ages 4 and up cut out the colored shape with blunt-tip scissors and glue it onto card for a card or a fridge gallery. The display wall gives tomorrow's page a place.

One outline per half-sheet keeps the task finishable. A page too detailed for the age ends unfinished; a page at the right level ends on the fridge.

Adult: blunt-tip scissors with a child under 4 stay in your hand, and you sit at the same table for the whole cut. Keep the glue stick capped between pages.
