Cut and Paste — The Train

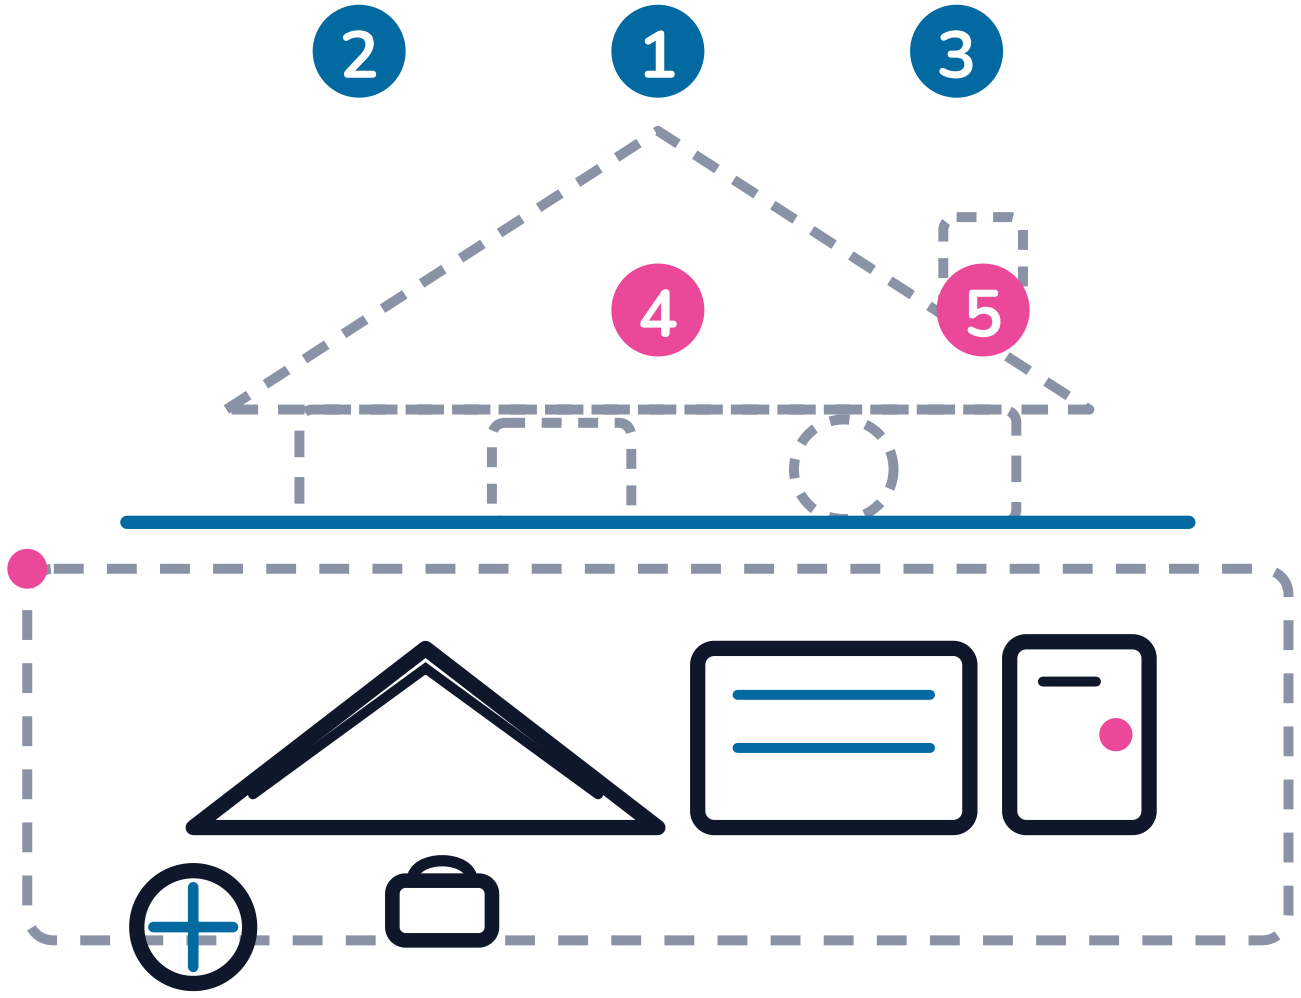

Five pieces at the bottom, five dashed shapes on the track at the top. Cut out the pieces on the grey dashed line, then paste each one onto the dashed shape with the same number.

Cut and Paste — The House

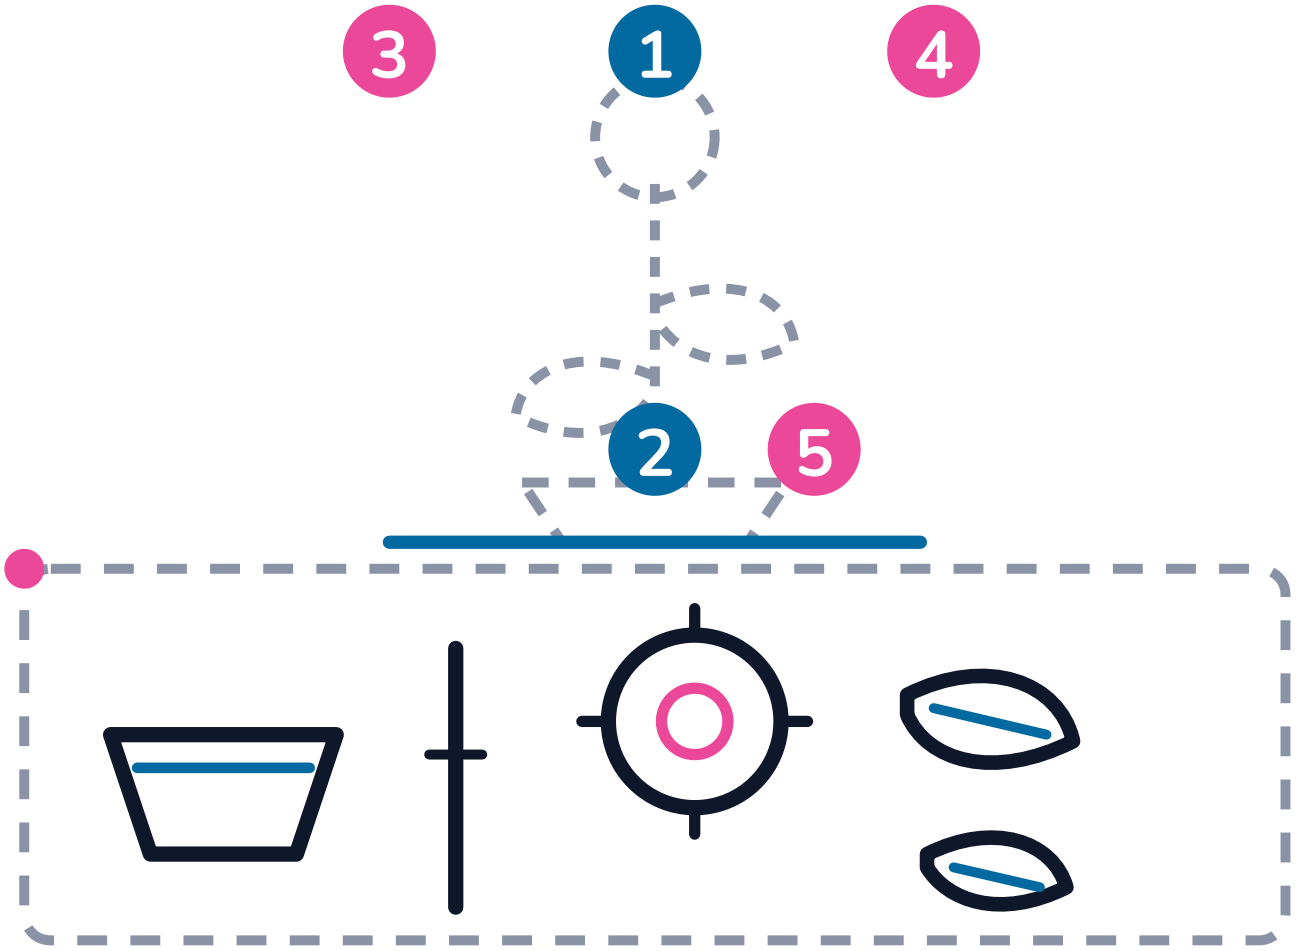

The dashed house at the top shows where each piece goes: roof first, then the wall, the door, the window and the chimney. Glue on the back of the piece, not on the page.

Cut and Paste — The Flower Pot

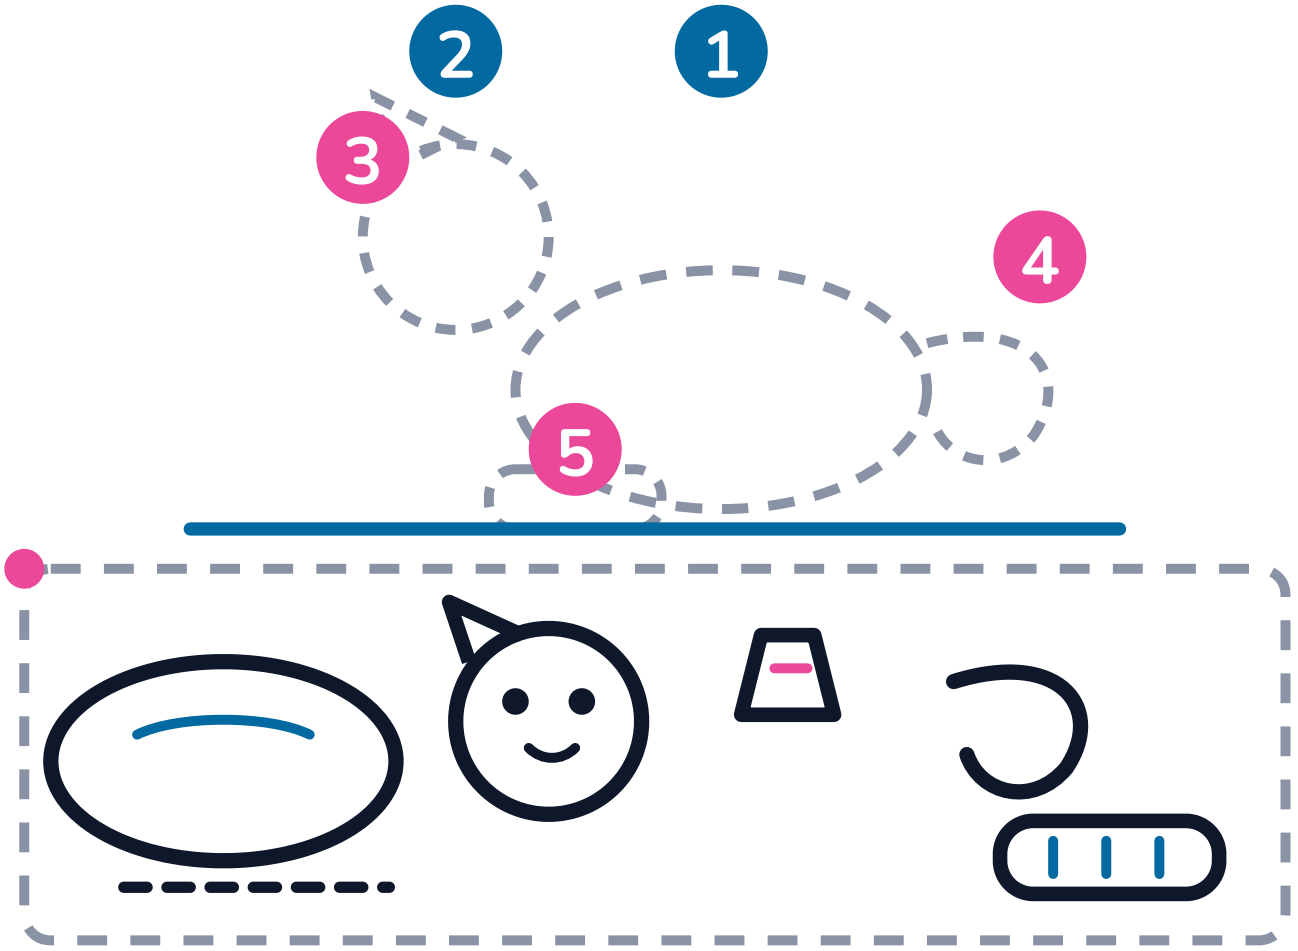

Five pieces, one plant. The dashed shapes show the pot at the bottom and the bloom at the top. Press each piece down with the palm and hold for a count of five while the glue grabs.

Cut and Paste — The Cat

The last page, the same five moves. Body first, then the head on top, one ear, the tail at the back and the two front paws under the chest.

Adult: blunt-tip scissors only, and an adult, close enough to act, stays at the table for every cut — blades closed and laid down between pieces. The glue stick stays in adult hands until the first piece is cut, and the scraps go into a bowl together before the page is pasted.
